

TRIO COPY

The Kevin Brown trio relies heavily upon the grooves Kevin sets out within his songs to give this formation the necessary energy that brings his material truly to life. Featuring his regular rhythm section of Duncan Kingston and Mick Candler, this trio is the perfect vehicle for Kevin within which he can travel down the many paths of his renowned musical journey. This is core unit responsible for Kevin's stripped down recent recordings..(Grit..'6 strings and a Dream') both huge favourites amongst fans of his slide playing and laid back vocal style.
