

SHORT BIO

Hailed by Mark Knopfler, Kevin Brown is a living legend and quite simply one of the UK's finest acoustic blues guitarist on the circuit today. From the main stage of Glastonbury to the beer joints of Texas and with 14 albums to his credit, Kevin has a growing number of loyal fans who not only love his touch and tone but have grown to admire his heartfelt songs, often delivered with a great sense of humour and dry northern wit. Kevin is a regular visitor to Clarksdale where he is constantly in demand amidst the many blues clubs within the town. His Clarksdale inspired new release '6 Strings and a Dream' once more highlights his passion for wrapping his songs around blues and roots inspired music, influenced by his second home in the Delta.

Kevin Brown has never ceased making joyful, soulful, tuneful, beautifully produced music. He's and an ace, no one like him. Joe Boyd
